Definitely the first benefit of learning English on a university campus is the environment. I participated in conversation club activities, a picnic, and I joined the UQ Wasabi Club.

The benefits of learning at UQ College are that you can learn English in an English-speaking country and find a lot of opportunities to use and practice the language. You can make friends and learn English effectively.”

"I really enjoy the activities in class and the teachers make a big effort to keep our attention and interest. They are very creative and smart and use different strategies, such as games, songs, role plays, videos, interaction with other classes, projects, etc. As a student, you do not think that studying English is a kind of obligation because you feel that you can have fun during the journey of learning."

Studying in Brisbane at UQ College has been the best experience in my life so far."
